—The past week, known as Holy week, was celebrated by the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches. The passion and crucifizion of Jesus Christ, and the services in the various churches, were quiet of an imposing character, more imposing than at any other season of the christian year. On the even-ings of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the office of Tenebre, or darkness, was performed at the Catholic churches. The rites are so called from the fact of extinguishing ail the candles in the sanctuary during the progress of the ceremony. The services contain no hymns of praise, but express sorrow for the sufferings of the Savior and the sins of men. Holy Thursday is the real anniversary of the institution of the Blessed Sacra ment, but owing to its coming in the peni tential season the feast of Corpus Christi i
